

Katie's Dream

I had a dream that all who could, vote would vote,

Hallways full of people waiting to vote
Arguments of what race is better would be done
Voting age would be lowered to sixteen
Environment would be better

All the ballots accounted for Discussions about what party to vote for Research about all the parties are done

Expressing all the research to other people
All the voting signs have the party leader on them
Move into the future with a good heart for everything
